THE SOCIETY FOR THE ENCOURAGEMENT OF ARTS, MANUFACTURES, AND COMMERCE,

Was established in 1754, and Incorporated by Royal Charter in 1847, for "The Encouragement of the Arts, Manufactures, and Commerce of the Country, by bestowing rewards for such productions, inventions, or improvements as tend to the employment of the poor, to the increase of trade, and to the riches and honour of the kingdom; and for meritorious works in the various departments of the Fine Arts; for Discoveries, Inventions, and Improvements in Agriculture, Chemistry, Mechanics, Manufactures, and other Useful Arts; for the application of such natural and artificial products, whether of Home, Colonial, or Foreign growth and manufacture, as may appear likely to afford fresh objects of industry, and to increase the trade of the realm by extending the sphere of British Commerce; and generally to assist in the advancement, development, and practical application of every department of science in connexion with the Arts, Manufactures, and Commerce of this country."

In prosecuting these objects, the Society has annually expended considerable sums in prizes, premiums, and pecuniary grants. In its Transactions there is abundant proof, on the one hand, that inventors and others have gladly availed themselves of the aid and countenance which the Society has thus afforded; and, on the other, that these premiums have done much to encourage and promote the Fine and Industrial Arts—have led to many important improvements in Manufactures, and have laid open many new and valuable sources of industry and Commerce, not only in the United Kingdom and its Colonies, but also in Foreign Countries.

The Society numbers above two thousand members; and more than three hundred Literary, Scientific, and Mechanics' Institutions, Local Educational Boards, and Chambers of Commerce in the United Kingdom and in the Colonies are in connection with it.

The Society holds Annual Examinations of Members of the Institutions in Union and other persons, the particulars of which may be obtained on application to the Secretary.

From a very early period the Society has held Exhibitions of various kinds, which, by showing what had already been done, and the degree of perfection that had been attained, have stimulated the progress of invention and design, and directed attention to points still requiring improvement. Those Exhibitions "prepared the way for the Great International Exhibition" of 1851, which was originated by the Society of Arts. Her Majesty has recently granted a Charter, on the prayer of the Society, incorporating Earl Granville, K.G., the Marquis of Chandos, Thomas Baring, Esq., C. Wentworth Dilke, Esq., and Thomas Fairbairn, Esq., as Commissioners for carrying out the Great International Exhibition in 1862, and the Society has obtained a Guarantee Fund of nearly £450,000 for this object.

The Society enters into Correspondence and exchanges publications with Foreign and Colonial Societies.

The Society publishes a Weekly Journal, which contains Reports of the Society's Proceedings and Transactions, Reports of the Institutions in Union, and a variety of information connected with Arts, Manufactures, and Commerce.

Candidates for admission as Members* must be proposed and recommended by three Members of the Society, according to a form, in which the name, rank, and usual place of residence of the Candidate are stated. This form is read at an Ordinary Meeting of the Society, and afterwards hung up in the Society's room until the second following meeting, when the Candidate is balloted for. The Annual Subscription is Two Guineas, payable in advance, from the quarter-day next preceding the date of election. There is no fee on admission. Any Member, by a payment of Twenty Guineas, may at any time commute his annual subscription. Foreigners and persons not resident in Great Britain may become Corresponding Members, without payment of any subscription, if proposed and elected in the usual manner. Ladies are eligible as members.

Every Member whose subscription is not in arrear is entitled—

To be present at, and take part in, the proceedings of all the Ordinary Meetings of the Society, and to introduce two visitors at such meetings.—To be present and vote at all General Meetings of the Society.—To have personal free admission to all the Society's Exhibitions.—To receive a copy of the Weekly Journal, or of any work in which its Transactions or Proceedings shall be published by the Society subsequent to his election.—And to the use of the Library and Reading-Room.

The Session commences in November and ends in June. At the ordinary meetings of the Society, on Wednesday evenings during the Session, at eight o'clock, papers on subjects relating to inventions, improvements, discoveries, and other matters connected with the Arts, Manufactures, or Commerce of the Country are read and discussed.

* Gentlemen or Ladies desirous of becoming Members should communicate with the Secretary, at the Society's House, Adelphi, London, W.C., who will also furnish information to Institutions relative to the terms and conditions of Union.

UNION OF INSTITUTIONS WITH THE SOCIETY OF ARTS.

This Union was established on the 8th May, 1852. Its objects are:—

1. That the experience and information of each separate Institution be rendered available to the whole body.
2. That there be an Interchange of Privileges between the members of different Institutions, so that the Members of any one Institution being temporarily in the neighbourhood of any other may enjoy at that other, for a limited period, the privileges of admission to its Lectures, Library, Reading-room, and Exhibitions.
3. That facilities be afforded for effecting engagements with Lecturers.
4. That Books, Maps, Philosophical Instruments, &c., be procured at reduced rates.
5. That facilities be afforded, by interchange and otherwise, for the formation of Local Museums, Exhibitions, &c.
6. That, through the united action of the associated Institutions, the Laws which affect these bodies may be amended; and that their status be generally improved.
7. That the Institutions be assisted to become also places of systematic instruction, with systematic examinations and certificates of the results of studies.

The Council of the Society of Arts neither governs the Institutions, nor supercedes their own efforts for improvement, but stimulates, assists, and supplements their efforts, and endeavours to enhance their success.

The Annual Conference, the weekly Journal of the Society of Arts, supplied gratuitously to each Institution in Union, and Constant Correspondence with the Institutions, promote the first of the objects stated above.

The second is, to some extent, provided for; a large number of the Institutions have agreed to the Interchange of Privileges. The Society of Arts also grants certain privileges in regard to its own Meetings and Exhibitions to Institutions in Union. Institutions within twelve miles of the General Post-office have three transferable admissions to each Meeting and Exhibition of the Society of Arts. Members of Institutions beyond this limit, on presenting during office hours (ten to four) a note, signed by their Secretary, may obtain similar privileges.

In reference to the third object, the Society prints for the use of the Institutions in Union and furnishes them gratuitously with a General List of Lecturers, Paid and Unpaid. This list gives their names and addresses and the subjects on which they lecture. It also contains information as to the Apparatus and Diagrams for Lectures, where they may be obtained, and at what cost.

The fourth object has been already attained to a considerable extent, the Council having made arrangements for supplying the associated Institutions with books at a reduction of 27½ per cent., and with Periodicals at a reduction of 25 per cent. on the published prices. The Committee of Council on Education, at the request of the Society of Arts, have agreed to extend to Institutions in Union with the Society the privilege of purchasing books on the very favourable terms enjoyed by the schools under the inspection of the Committee of Council. The Society for the Diffusion of Pure Literature has also extended its privileges to the Institutions in Union with the Society.

With respect to the fifth object, several of the Institutions have agreed to interchange Specimens of Natural History, Manufactures, &c., for Museums. As regards Exhibitions, the Society of Arts has in circulation, on loan, specimens of Photography, of Nature Printing, of Chromo-Lithography, &c.

With reference to the sixth object, the Council direct attention to the very important Act, intituled "Literary and Scientific Institutions Act," which was passed in 1854 through the exertions of the Society.

In different parts of the country, where no Free Library exists, Mechanics' Institutions have been allowed by the Commissioners of Patents to become the depositaries of their valuable publications, the Specifications and Indexes of Patents, on the Institutions undertaking to allow them to be consulted at all reasonable hours daily by the public, free of all charge whatsoever. The donations are made to the local authorities for the use of the town, and they are permitted to place the publications in the Institutions for reference.

With reference to the seventh object, the Society has established the scheme of Examinations detailed in a Programme, of which copies may be had on application to the Society.

Any Institution, or Provincial Union of Institutions, desirous of entering into Union with the Society of Arts, must fill up, sign, and return to the Secretary, a printed Form of Declaration, as under, accompanied with a copy of its Rules. When this form has been approved by the Council, the Institution is taken into the Union. The subscription is two guineas annually, and may be paid in either of the two following ways: the President or any other analogous officer of the Institution, may be elected a member of the Society of Arts; or, the Institution or Provincial Union may contribute the two guineas from its own funds. In the former case the gentleman selected will enjoy all the privileges of a Member, and will, at the same time, give to his own Institution, so long as he continues to hold the same office in it, the advantages of the Union. In the latter case, the Institution itself will receive the advantages of the Union, but no individual member of the Institution will enjoy the full privileges of a member of the Society of Arts.

The managers of Village Libraries, Village Reading Rooms, Village Lectures, &c., (not being fully constituted Institutions,) in connection with any Provincial Union that is in Union with the Society of Arts, may obtain the advantages of Union with this Society in consideration of the payment of £2 2s. from the Provincial Union, but the Society relies on the officers of the Provincial Unions for a careful discrimination of those bodies which ought, from those which ought not, to be expected to subscribe separately for the advantages of the Union with the Society of Arts, and the Council reserve the power of re-considering the arrangements, if it should be found that bodies not contemplated herein avail themselves of this privilege.

LIST OF INSTITUTIONS IN UNION.*

Any Institution or Provincial Union of Institutions, desirous of entering into Union with the Society of Arts, must fill up, sign, and return to the Secretary, a printed Form of Declaration, which will be furnished on application. When this form has been approved by the Council, the Institution is taken into Union. The subscription is two guineas annually, and may be paid in either of the two following ways: the President, or any other analogous officer of the Institution, may be elected a member of the Society of Arts; or, the Institution or Provincial Union may contribute from its own funds the payment of two guineas. In the former case the gentleman so selected will enjoy all the privileges of a Member, and will, at the same time, give to his own Institution, so long as he continues to hold the same office in it, the advantages of the Union. In the latter case, the Institution itself will receive the advantages of the Union, but no individual member of the Institution will enjoy the full privileges of a member of the Society of Arts.
